

Taste Café & Marketplace Brings an Eclectic Breakfast and Lunch Menu to a Cozy Meridian-Kessler Corner This Spring

April 2004

A fresh, new neighborhood restaurant is opening this spring on the corner of College & 52nd: taste café & marketplace. Owners Marc Urwand and sisters, Deidra Henry & Dana Henry Amos, will be serving gourmet breakfasts, lunches & weekend brunches. Everything is homemade, freshly baked and custom-created.

The restaurant is perfectly situated as an ideal breakfast or lunch meeting spot because it's located half way between Downtown and the North side. Stop in for a breakfast on the run or a leisurely meal and enjoy a bottomless cup of gourmet coffee, buttery croissants, fluffy omelets, delicious waffles or iced cinnamon buns. Some of taste's dine-in and pick-up lunch specials include hearty soups, specialty salads, fresh sandwiches or rotisserie chicken. No meal is complete without one of taste's made-from-scratch cookies, cakes, brownies and cheesecakes for dessert. Yum!

And, you won't want to miss taste's gourmet marketplace which includes unbelievable domestic & imported cheeses, seasoned olive oils, spice rubs, unique dressings, and so much more. Plus, feel free to ask Marc or Deidra for recipe advice since they are both experienced executive chefs who have been recognized by Gourmet Magazine, Bon Appetite and other renowned magazines for their culinary skills.

After spending the last 15 years managing the kitchens of some of New York and Los Angeles' most successful restaurants, Marc and Deidra moved back to Indy to start taste café & marketplace with Deidre's sister, Dana. They love good food and good company, and they want to share some of their favorite items with you.
